

Fitness & Wellness

IGNITE fitness & wellness has been created as a way of life, not purely a fitness course. We believe that a healthy body and mind is the first step to personal fulfillment and is committed to supporting the long-term personal growth and development of clients through achieving results and setting new limits. No other company in Dubai offers this level of service and range of solutions.

ABOUT IGNITE Fitness & Wellness

IGNITE fitness & wellness was the start of the IGNITE brand back in 2010. CEO, Guillaume Mariole, formerly known for launching the Boot Camp style of training and the first corporate wellness program in the region, launched IGNITE with a focus on getting people moving and educating the community on healthy lifestyle habits and personal fulfillment, not purely fitness.

Eight years later and IGNITE fitness & wellness is now part of a bigger group of companies all with the same objective of empowering individuals to be the best version of themselves and creating opportunities to move.

We believe that a healthy body and mind is the first step to personal fulfillment and we're committed to supporting the long-term personal growth and development of our clients through achieving results and setting new limits.
